LEETOWN FARM BUREAU GROUP MEETS AND HEARS PROMOTIONAL PROGRAM

County Agent John Bozeman Discusses Requirements to Procure Maximum Soil Building Allowance Under 1937 Soil Conservation Program.

The Lee Town Community Farm Bureau held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night September 28, at 7:30 around a big bon fire at the Lee Town Community play ground and park. Approximately 50 farm men and women, boys and girls attended this meeting. A very instructive and educational program was presented and among those appearing on the program were: J. A. Bozeman, county agent, who discussed briefly the requirements work sheet signers would have to meet in order to earn their maximum soil building allowance, under the 1937 Soil Conservation Program. He also discussed the planting of winter legumes such as hairy vetch and Austrian winter peas in connection with the soil conservation program. Mr. Bozeman urged all farmers who were cotton growers to turn in their cotton sale certificates within 15 days from the date of sale in order to become eligible for the cotton price adjustment payment on their base production in 1937.

In conclusion he discussed very briefly the government loan on cotton in 1937-38. Other speakers on the program were Mr. Luther Baker, president of the Lee Town Community Organization, and Mr. Geo. A. Spiers, president of the County Farm Bureau. Some of the boys and girls in the community appeared on the program.

The ladies of the community spiced the meeting by serving good ole lemonade and cake.

PREPARING FOR R. C. ROLL CALL

Preliminary Meeting Held Thursday At Rea Residence—Organize for County.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Mollie Hodges, field representative of the American National Red Cross, addressed a representative audience of ladies and gentlemen at the home of Mr. Geo. R. Rea, Hancock county chairman of Red Cross.

Mrs. Hodges gave a history of the origin of Red Cross, what it has done during wars to relieve suffering, and what it is doing in time of peace in relief work during disasters, aiding and assisting those in distress through acts of mercy. Mrs. Hodges stated that a worthy case was refused help. The States of Mississippi alone has received $7,000 for very dollar subscribed by its citizens. The audience was informed that not a single penny received from membership was spent for any expense of operation or salaries by the American Red Cross.

The regional meeting at Edgewater Gulf Hotel held in September 28th was fully explained and a cordial invitation extended to all to attend the day meeting and pageant at night.

This is preparatory to the Annual Roll Call.

Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere of Bay-Waveland, has accepted the general chairmanship of the Roll Call and she has selected an able corps of assistants. Much interest will be manifested over this directorate and the drive will be eminently successful.

The following are the officers of Hancock County Chapter: George R. Rea, Chairman; Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere, Vice-Chairman; Miss Mae K. Edwards, Secretary; Mrs. Geo. R. Rea, Treasurer.

BEAUTY PAGEANT PROSPECTS

Wednesday, October 6 Date For Local Display of Pulchritude in Three Groups.

Unabated interest continues in the forthcoming Beauty Pageant, to be presented in Bay St. Louis, Wednesday, October 6, under auspices of S. J. A. Mothers' Club, at the local convent gym.

"Entries have been coming in at a most encouraging rate," said one of the chief promoters of the beauty show, "and that from this there is every indication that the affair is going to be one event that will prove of mutual interest and enjoyment."

It is noted many automobiles in and around town are carrying stickers announcing the event and date. Since the affair has grown to such magnitude and engrosses wide interest the question is generally asked as to price of admission, since that has not been formally announced.

There will be a charge of only 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. This minimum admission charge as adopted in order to give many the opportunities of attending. Then ten cent admission will be no bar to the children.

Notice to Participants.

The management requests children participating in the beauty pageant to assemble Tuesday afternoon, October 5, at 3 o'clock, at the convent gym for rehearsal. Mothers and others are requested to take notice and see that the children and others taking part are on time.

BUSINESS PAGE BY THE ECHO

Soon to Be Inaugurated—Co-Operative Community Enterprise Announced.

Realizing the necessity of a Weekly Business Page in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo in order to better promote business interests and in order to afford our business men and others an inexpensive and yet an effective medium of publicity, we announce the inauguration of such a page by this newspaper, to be started as early as possible.

With this end in view The Echo has added to the regular advertising staff the well-known and efficient service of its townsmen, Mr. G. E. Templet, who has been and is still an active business man of this section of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. In selecting Mr. Templet to conduct this special page we have done so in order that we may have an experienced business man at the helm of this new enterprise. We have selected him because he is a home man, believing as we do in patronizing one who is fully acquainted with local conditions; not only in the Bay-Waveland district but along the Mississippi Gulf Coast as well.

This page will carry one or more business stories each week about the advertiser and his enterprise in its trading and who has something of value and at appealing price to offer the public.

Every business, no matter how old or well known, needs a certain amount of constant publicity, something within the reach of all. It is to meet this demand this business page will be started in this newspaper. It will be a representative

OUR COUNTY LIBRARY IN BAY ST. LOUIS; BOON TO THE PUBLIC

As a Local Citizen Sees It—Points Not Thought of Brought to Mind.

Here is a conversation between visitor and resident recently overheard and brings a flood of thoughts possibly not heretofore realized:

Visitor—"What have you been reading?"

Resident—"Reading most of our new books."

Visitor—"Where on earth do you get them?"

Resident—"At our local library. You'll miss something if you don't see their attractive quarters. Oh, yes, they have the latest non-fiction, biography, travel and fine selection for children. By the way, if you are still here on the second Tuesday, come to our next Book Review."

Hancock county has reason to be extremely proud of her present library facilities. A few short years ago, there was no public library of any kind, no branches in the county. Those who sought reading matter had to buy it or draw on a small private lending library which served the county seat for a few years. Once again, we lacked one of the "advantages of a city" and a very important one.

Just as radio has brought to rural homes and small towns the best in music and speakers, so our library and its branches throughout the county have opened new worlds to those who love to read. Patrons are actually able to obtain the new books sooner here than through city libraries.

It has been a source of amazement to the patrons how any library operating on the small budget which this one has, can always have best sellers available for a small fee in a comparatively short time, have them on the free shelves.

A young boy once said, "I never liked to read until I saw such lots of interesting books all at once and could try anyone I wanted to and then try another if I didn't like that one." This privilege is given now to all in Hancock county while parents have many times called down blessings on the library for giving the "teen group" such a worthwhile summer interest.

For young people reading stimulates the imagination, widens their horizon, and deepens their understanding while for adults it offers recreation, a new view point, a possible solution of problems and an enrichment of personality.

Stanislaus Day School Opens This Season With Large Numbers

The St. Stanislaus Day School opened on the morning of September 7, with an enrollment of 64 pupils. For want of space, the four boys in the eighth grade were sent to the college. The present enrollment in the first seven grades is seventy.

The faculty of the Day School was entirely changed this year. Brother Florent, an experienced teacher, was transferred from Thibodaux, La., and Brother Edwin came from Metuchen, New Jersey to replace Brothers Firmin and Norman who were removed to other fields of activity.

Baruch, returning from Europe, says that the people there "have no hope any more."

page of the representative business people of this section. And not only will home people, city, county and Coast, read it and use it as a guide word to buy, but will be read by many who live away and in some form or another do business here from time to time.

Without publicity the average business will starve. It is as essential as the sun is to life. And to meet a void that has heretofore existed we are going to create such a medium in the co-operative plan proposed and as will be personally explained by Mr. Templet.

A few business people have said they cannot afford to advertise. In this instance it will be a case where a business man cannot afford to not advertise. This business page is not an advertising scheme and is not promoted by outsiders. But a legitimate, worth while business proposition, backed by The Sea Coast Echo with its forty-five years' prestige, general reliability and stability.

IMPROVING AFTER BEING HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Mr. Laurent L. Kergosien, hurt in an automobile accident last Thursday afternoon at the corner Bookter and Hancock streets, has recovered to the extent he was able to leave the hospital this week and transferred to the family home of his father, Dr. A. A. Kergosien, where he continues to improve.

Pursuant to official publication in the columns of the Sea Coast Echo, Mississippi State Highway commission at Jackson Tuesday let the contract for the last lap of paving on the route in Hancock county to the Harrison Engineering and Construction Company of Kansas City for $263,681.

Press information from Jackson says highway officials voiced the hope Wednesday that the Mississippi section of the new shortcut route over Highway 90 from New Orleans to the Gulf Coast will be paved by the first of the year.

John McNamara, Jr., of the highway commission staff, said work orders on the project will probably be issued within the next two weeks.

"This will shorten the route between Bay St. Louis and the Louisiana line about two miles," McNamara said.

When the paving is completed the road will be connected with the Louisiana "short cut" near Pearlinton.

Four miles on the Hancock county project has not been graded, but grading has been completed on 8 miles.

"By the time the eight-mile stretch has been paved," McNamara said, "grading will have been completed on the four-mile gap and paving work will not be interrupted."

All week long Coach Glover has been drilling his charges intensively upon pass defense, blocking, and tackling in preparation for possibly one of the toughest encounters of the season. Bay Minette is regarded as a sort of dark horse this year, nobody knowing much about them excepting the fact that they have an exceptionally heavy, but fast team.

The Rockchaws came out of last Friday's opener with Leakesville, with no injuries, and the boys in high spirits for this game. ## CHURCH REVIVAL CLOSES Spirit of Earnestness Marks Week's Religious Exercises—Professions of Faith.

The revival meeting at the Methodist Church, under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Andrew J. Boyles, assisted by Rev. Van R. Landrum of Poplarville, who did the preaching, and Rev. David M. Ulmer, who led the song services, came to a close Sunday night. Large congregations assembled each day for the services, especially at the evening hour. The messages were proclaimed in a strong manner and given in a spirit of earnestness that held the attention of those present, and planted in all hearts seeds of greater endeavor for the Master's cause, and reaching the lost. Special songs were rendered not only by the song leader but by different ones of the congregation, also the Young People's Choir and Junior Choir.

A fine spirit of cooperation was shown by other denominations—Bro. W. S. Allen, pastor of the Baptist Church, being present at most of the evening services.

There were two additions to the church on profession of faith, and the congregation was greatly blessed. The spirit of the church was rekindled—its members pledging a greater loyalty to the Church, to the pastor, and to the Giver of all good gifts—Our Master and our Friend.

Mrs. Moran More Severely Hurt.

Mrs. Moran resides in Hutton street, occupying the former Delmas Laidner dwelling and Mr. Moran is an employee of the Bay Ice & Bottling Works, both well known locally. It was announced she was hurt the more. Her cuts and lacerations being over a wider area and wounds deep.

Mrs. Carver resides in Bookter, near St. Francis street and Mr. Carver is an employee of the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Company. She is the mother one child, a little girl.

Both ladies are in their late thirties and have families. The car belonged to Mrs. Carver and the ladies were leisurely driving en route to visit friends during the afternoon hours with the owner at the wheel. Mrs. Carver has several children.

P. T. A. MEET, GREENVILLE OCT. 19-21ST.

Members Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers to Hold Assembly.

Members of the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers, both on the State Board of Managers and in local P. T. A.'s, are making preparations for a gala week in the history of the State Congress. By proclamation of the Governor, October 17-23 has been designated "Parent Teacher Week" and all citizens are asked to cooperate with their local P. T. A.'s, attend meetings, rallies, hear programs and gain information about the work of this great organization, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers of which Mississippi is a part. 261 local P. T. A.'s in the state will celebrate the birthday of the Mississippi Congress which was founded by Mrs. R. B. Stapleton in 1909.

This far-seeing and unselfish woman has recently celebrated her 76th birthday and the workers who are delighted to remember her at the State Convention, which will be held in Greenville, October 19-21.

PTA Techniques.

Parent-Teacher methods and techniques will be shown and discussed in a Parliamentary play and Conference at the convention; demonstrations, symposiums on Membership, Programs, using Standards, Councils, etc., will give the local delegates something to take home to their own local unit. An informal conference hour with State Board Members, officers and chairmen, will give opportunity to ask and answer questions, help solve problems.

Social features will be an exhibit tea, when recordbooks, posters, year-

Mrs. Sylvester Moran, aged 39 and Mrs. Henry Carver, aged 39, residents of Bay St. Louis, driving in a Model A Ford car on the Old Spanish Trail at the point of Roemer's Garage and Service Station, were victims of an automobile accident at about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and attending physicians at the time considered their injuries serious.

The ladies were driving toward Waveland and the truck of the Braun Packing Company, Biloxi, was traveling towards Biloxi, with a load of cans and other freight of their own.

Both Vehicles Sideswiped.

It appears the truck and car sideswiped and turned the auto completely around, the truck damaged to the extent of $200.00 or more, it was reported, and the auto car wrecked, it was also said. Both ladies were severely cut about the face and head from windshield glass, the shock of compact bumping them thorough.

Local physicians were immediately summoned and the Fahey ambulance conveyed both ladies to the Bay St. Louis King's Daughters' Hospital. It was found they had been severely injured.

Latest Reports.

Latest reports Thursday, before The Echo closes its forms was to the effect that while both ladies are seriously and painfully hurt, their condition remained undetermined, awaiting the lapse of the 48-hour period following the accident. Both loss blood copiously and the greater apprehension rests on the possibility of internal injuries.

However, attending physicians were hopeful and felt the victims would pull through.

Dr. A. P. Smith and Dr. C. L. Horton are the physicians and surgeons in charge.

Last Minute Report.

As The Echo goes to press Thursday afternoon hospital report is to the effect Mrs. Carver, who suffered an injured back in addition to cuts and lacerations and a broken finger, shows marked improvement, considering how painfully and seriously she is injured.

Mrs. Moran, however who suffered a concussion of the brain as her major injury, remains in a semi-conscious condition, rallying to consciousness only at intervals.

books, etc. may be inspected and ideas gathered for the new year's work. Division luncheons where delegates may meet their own regional division vice president and their neighbors; and the membership banquet where recognition will be given to the president or representative of every local unit which has equalled or exceeded its last year's membership. All social gatherings will be strictly informal.

From October 17 to October 23, Mississippi should become very conscious of PTA, with the State Convention and Parent Teacher Week in progress at the same time.

This is of vital interest to Bay St. Louis as well since the organization is intensely organized and effectively organized in the Bay-Waveland district. This section will be well represented.

AS TO THE SOLIDITY OF OUR SEAWALL.

DISCUSSION of the proposed double boulevard along the coast beach front has brought forth the opinion, frequently and publicly expressed that the seawall is none too strong; that its practically a veneer like and that this is best attested to by the fact that in certain sections the wall will not hold sand behind its structure.

This is a serious charge. Particularly after we have spent millions of dollars, and still paying off the bonds and accompanying interests. The wall was built as a bulwark to ward off any possible damage tropical storms might cause to the mainland. And to have the wall fail in this expressed purpose would seem futile that men have labored and spent good money and piled taxes sky high if such structure along the coastal line was to prove to no avail.

It might be too late to investigate these charges later. We well remember the story of the horse and doors that were closed after his escape.

WHERE ARE OUR OWN LABORERS?

OVER one thousand Mexicans were imported from their country to pick cotton for the planters in the Delta due to the scarcity of local labor. It is reported labor is scarce while laborers are plentiful but won't work.

The report comes that many refuse to go to work for the reason claimed they will be cut from the relief rolls. And this sort of report comes from various sections of the State.

Hardly any comment need be added. Such a situation is a reflection on the powers that give this so called relief to able-bodied men and women and sounds like extravagance and a fearful waste of money while industry must import foreigners to move the crops.

No one begrudges relief to the aged and others not bodily fitted to work. Circumstances alter many cases but the raid on the federal treasury through many ruses for relief continues in the face of telling facts and situations that cry out to heaven.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

FROM the many newspapers that come to this office we note from time to time where petitions are circulated asking that certain small cities revoke the commission form of government and go back to the aldermanic form, once so popular.

It is cited such officials are paid salaries far beyond the ken of reason; that no small city can afford to pay men such liberal salaries and possibilities of municipal dictatorships are apparent. That such salaries are not commensurate with the income of small communities.

It does look like a backward step but, there must be salient reasons for such action over the country from time to time. And it might be well to investigate. This subject will not down and it is going to be prominently in the limelight at none too distant a date.

GOV. WHITE'S SIGNIFICANT VISIT.

Governor White is reported at Dearborn, Michigan, this week, hobnobbing with Henry Ford, of "Model T" memory and fame. Ford is an industrialist at heart and recognizes agricultural possibilities and that such pursuit is the very fundamental of the nation's success. Gov. White's visit is not without reason nor purpose. Mr. Ford is possibly not the richest man in the world but it is assumed he has the most money at his command. Gov. White is on a missionary tour for Mississippi and his visit might result in wide-spread benefit for the State.

MISSISSIPPI IDEAL PRISON SYSTEM.

MISSISSIPPI prison system is said to be one of the best in the country. The men are not isolated and incarcerated in cells and do little or nothing but to the contrary work crops for State and live in the open. Meaning for better health and giving a better view of life.

The cotton crop is reported the best in many a season and the State is going to yield thousands of dollars from the sale. Making the prisoners earn for their own keep and care and earning money for the State is a combination hard to beat.

CHEAP AUTO TAGS.

There should be considerable change coming back to the treasury of the State of Mississippi on purchase price for 1937 auto tags. It will be noted the green surface has faded and numerals hardly visible. The State or the public was apparently gyped.

BEST TIME IS ALL THE TIME.

JUST about this time of the year we frequently hear people say, "This is the best time of the year on the Coast." It strikes us that the best time on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is all the time, regardless of season.

BEACH HIGHWAY IN PROSPECT.

QUITE a fight seems to be in prospect over in Harrison county—along the Mississippi Gulf Coast front or beachway.

Governor White recently spent a month on the Coast and after viewing the necessity of relieving constantly increasing traffic congestion, approved the suggestion of building a four-lane highway along the coastal front. Said he would recommend such road building at the next session of the Legislature when more funds would be asked for.

Now it appears the New Orleans contingent principally owning property along the beach front has risen almost to a man and give notice the matter will be fought to bitter end through the courts, if necessary.

That the beach front is a "thing of beauty" and that they wish it to continue as a "joy forever."

That the present roadway must not be doubled. But, that instead, in order to relieve heavy traffic congestion, another roadway should be built back of that line extending from Pass Christian to Biloxi, inclusive.

To mar the present beauty of the beach front with a caravan of freight trucks, buses and other objectionable-looking vehicles of transport, would be to destroy not only really values but one of the beauty spots of the country.

The front and best property we are inclined to believe is owned principally by people living away the greater part of the year. It seems strange that they wish to dictate to the home people what they should or not do, but we are of the firm opinion that they will win out in the end. Ever stop to think that the Waveland, Pass Christian, Biloxi and beach front are owned principally by people not belonging to this section?

A NEW SLANT ON HOUSING SUBJECT.

THE one-hundred-new-houses-program for Bay St. Louis continues to attract considerable attention and has set many to thinking.

Many letters commenting on the recent article appearing in the columns of The Echo has brought forth much comment—all favorable, endorsing the thought.

Last week we published quite a number of expressions (selected from a number) that brought out principally the negative side of the proposition, i. e., presenting various obstacles to the successful consummation of building one or two hundred new dwelling houses for Bay St. Louis.

However, more letters follow this week. One carries a new thought. A simple one, true. But nevertheless noteworthy because of the physiological reaction that would result.

In addition to serving newcomers seeking a place of comfortable and modern habitation there would be a majority of folk who would move from present premises that are simply tolerated in the absence of better housing conditions. Our informant says "tenants would desert the old places like rats desert a sinking ship." An inelegant expression, but one that tells a true story.

The old ones have served their purpose. They are eyesores to the community and have about served their time. They only served, in cases, for unjust taxation.

FOREST FIRES.

THIS is the season for forest fires. The question has frequently been asked, how do the fires originate—who starts them.

In view of so much advertised precaution and admonition the toll of forest fires continues.

True, not as much as formerly. But entirely too much for no sane reason that justifies destruction that follows and irreparable for years.

To burn the forest destroys much that is visible. Not only do the trees fall pray to unwarranted flames but much of the richness of the soil and the possibility of more growth.

Too frequently the thoughtless smoker tosses a cigarette through an open window when whizzing by through forest highways at rate of speed that is in keeping with his thoughtfulness.

Our fast-diminishing forests are well nigh precious and the exercises of care will in time soon make up for the loss sustained by the ruthless tree chopper and woods destroyer.

Every right-thinking people should form a committee-of-one and try to save the forests—that is, of what is left. It was not many years since this formed Mississippi's greatest asset. It can be brought back, or, at least, that which is left, preserved by a little thoughtfulness and sane thinking.

COUNTY FAIRS SOON TO BLOSSOM.

NOW that the season of bathing and beauty pageants has come to an end with the finals in Atlantic City recently, we are entering a season of State and county fairs. Nearly every county announces a forthcoming exhibit and the state press is devoting plenty of space to such enterprise.

Of the three coast counties only one continues—the annual fair, at Pascagoula. Harrison county fair was quite a big and successful undertaking and attracted wide attention. However, with expansion the overhead grew heavier with decreased attendance and the project was discontinued. Our local readers well remember the annual Hancock county fair held in Bay St. Louis. Later community fairs attracted neighborhood interest. Fairs not only cost money and require time of busy people but have been overshadowed largely by sideshows and other cheap attractions that smacked of gambling and soon brought disrepute and financial failure.

No project nor enterprise that is not financially and morally sound can hope to become permanent.

The merchant who cultivates his business usually reaps the cash crop.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

HOUSING SHORTAGE.

(Summit News)
THERE seems to be a cry up all over the State for "Houses, houses . . . more houses." . . . Almost every paper we pick up contains an editorial which pleads for building programs.

Certainly Summit could use more houses. Every day people are turned away . . . people who would like to make their homes here because of the beauty of the little town, its friendliness, its reasonable living conditions, its proximity to McComb . . . but there are no houses vacant! Frank Cunningham built three houses and their later occupants could hardly wait for their completion. P. G. Gwin built a double apartment house and it is never without occupants.

Someone who is able should start a building program here. It wouldn't make P. G. Gwin a bit angry to sell some lumber . . . and a lot of mighty good carpenters are just aching for a job here . . . not to mention electricians, plumbers and all the persons necessary when gets under way. It would be a great thing for Summit, and a wonderful investment for any man.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

(Jackson News)

AT the beginning of the year 1936, Sears Roebuck and Company, in celebration of its 51st anniversary, announced a newspaper advertising budget of $10,000,000, an increase of eight per cent over the former year.

Actual amount spent by the big concern during 1936 was $10,548,877.

What was the result?

That's a superfluous question. Sears Roebuck & Company's sales for 1936 showed an increase of 26 per cent over the previous year.

The same can happen to the business of any merchant who advertises with persistency and intelligence.

Advertising is an investment, not an expense.

The concerns getting the cream of business in Jackson are those whose names you most frequently see in the advertising columns of the daily press.

FREE TEXT BOOKS.

(Jackson Daily News)

THERE is nothing free in this country, Governor. So says Edgar Harris, editor of the West-Point Times-Leader, in an editorial personally directed to Gov. White on the subject of free books.

The editorial is filled with good horse sense, and here is what our West Point contemporary has to say:

We hope the Governor changes his mind.

He is a good business man—and he ought to know, as we know—that nothing which takes money out of the pockets of the overburdened taxpayers of Mississippi is really "free."

Most of the patrons of the public schools of Mississippi are able to buy textbooks for their children.

It is a pleasure and a privilege for them to do so.

Citizens have taxed themselves to erect school buildings. They tax themselves from year to year to pay teachers, and to defray the other necessary expenses of our public schools.

There is no more sense in providing school books at public expense than there is in providing warm clothes, in serving balanced food, or in powdering the faces of the pupils.

The responsibility of rearing a family is ours. We have no disposition to shift it to the state, or to shirk our obligations to those for whom we are responsible.

Books should be provided for children whose parents are unable to buy them. But we should be careful to ascertain that such is the case.

Parents who want the state to buy books for their children should be compelled to sign an affidavit declaring that they have no money and no income; that they do not indulge in intoxicating liquors or use tobacco or chewing gum; that they do no joyriding, attend no movies and spend no time on the street corners talking politics.

Amen to that! The Daily News heartily joins in the hope that Gov. White will change his mind. Wise men often do that. Furthermore, there's no use in being a glutton for trouble.

Quite enough graft and racketeering all about us without inviting another source.

LET HIM PASS.

(West Point Leader)
A MONG good suggestions on safe driving made in a letter to the editor, here is the most unexpected—and perhaps the most sensible: "When a car is passing you take your foot off the gas. That doubles his speed and gets him past quicker."

It may seem, at first thought, simply a generous act. But it means far more than that. Many of the worst accidents have always come from drivers making it harder for cars behind to pass them, instead of making it easier. Often the situation develops into a race, with both cars going faster and faster. Then tragedy is imminent at a turn of the road, the approach of another car or the sudden appearance of a steep hill ahead—and possibly cars coming up. Many a driver will bear witness that his closest shaves on the road have been of this sort.

It used to be regarded, in the early days of motoring, as legitimate sport to try to beat the other car. That notion has largely vanished, since almost every car now will go faster than anybody has any business going, and everybody knows it. Yet there still survives among many drivers a curious feeling that there is an indignity about letting somebody in a hurry get ahead.

If the fellow behind is a speed fiend, the sooner he passes you the better for you.

AFFLUENCES.

(Newton Record)

AN over abundance of any thing in life causes that thing to lose its flavor and zest, and become ordinary and colorless. One family liked to read immensely and each member waited impatiently his turn at the daily newspaper. Now there are half a dozen dailies in the home and most of them lie around unread. A small boy was intensely fond of ice cream and never seemed to get a sufficiency to appease his appetite. His mother acquired an electric refrigerator, made ice cream daily. The day came when the boy did not want the ice cream at all and left it untouched.

We find a parallel when we consider the deeper things of life. The lone person with no family ties, no parents, no sisters or brothers, looks longingly at the contented family circle of his friend. On the other hand the friend living in the midst of loved ones, and the intimacy of a happy family group does not value this happy situation. It has become so habitual that there is no realization of its worth.

Possession of any material thing in abundance, realization of any desire without cost, dulls our sense of value. Our good school systems are taken as a matter of course and are not appreciated as they should be. Should we chance to move to any section that offers poor or mediocre educational opportunities to our young and adult, then the modern school system is given its true value. We know our church buildings are there and that we can worship as we please. Consequently, we are not duly grateful to God for freedom of worship and a place in which to worship. Were it necessary for us to live in Russia, then would come proper evaluation of this institution and the part it plays in our lives.

Perhaps we are blessed in that we cannot realize all our desires and ambitions. Thus our lives are fuller and richer and more zestful for the average person is not affluent and cannot attain many of life's necessities in super-abundance.

unison until the ads were discontinued.

There is evident a growing discontent on the part of patrons who have to witness theater advertisements, and we venture to predict that the day will come when merchants will throw all advertising to the average person forced to sit through commercial advertising. If they changed daily, it would not be so bad but the patron who enjoys a movie three or four times a week finds himself forced to sit through the same ad every time . . . and there is a limit to good nature.

Of course we sympathize with the view-point of the Theater Manager who no doubt finds advertising profitable . . . On the other hand, we are one of the many sufferers because we simply abominate the necessity of sitting through the ads. How many times have we twisted and turned and writhed, in an effort to forget the advertising offered!

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF NATCHEZ OCTOBER 19TH.

Centenary of Local Diocese Set For Next Month—
Pageant Depicting History of Diocese to Be Presented —Women Organizations to Take Part.

Plans are rapidly shaping up for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the Catholic Diocese of Natchez on next October 19. All members of the clergy in the state of Mississippi and delegates from all Catholic congregations of the state will take part in the centennial, which is expected to draw to the city of Natchez, where the celebration will be held, one of the most imposing arrays of Catholic dignitaries and clergymen from many parts of the county ever seen in this section.

The Diocese of Natchez was erected as a separate ecclesiastical division on July 28, 1837. Formal observance of the centennial has been set for Tuesday, October 19. Arrangements for the coming celebration are under the direct supervision of Most Reverend Richard Oliver Gerow, D. D., present Bishop of Natchez and the seventh prelate to occupy the See in its 100 years of existence.

The Mississippi division of the National Council of Catholic Women has arranged to hold its annual state convention on the Sunday and Monday before the centennial and Monday gathering will tie in with the one hundredth anniversary observance. This will permit Catholic women leaders from all parts of Mississippi to take part in the celebration to be held at Natchez. Plans also include the presentation of a centennial pageant, depicting the history of the diocese during the past 100 years; a Solemn Pontifical Mass in the historic Natchez Cathedral; a luncheon for the visiting dignitaries and other features.

It is expected that the centennial sermon will be preached by Most Rev. Joseph Francis Rummel, S. T. D., Archbishop of New Orleans, a noted national figure, who has been called upon to address such prominent gatherings, as the recent National Boy Scout Jamboree at Washington and the Central Verein national convention at San Antonio, Texas. This will be the Archbishop's first official visit to the city of Natchez. The publican diocese is a Suffragan See of the Metropolitan Province of New Orleans, which is headed by Archbishop Rummel.

It is fitting that the celebration be held at Natchez as this is the See city of the Diocese of Natchez, the

"BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938" WITH STARDUSTED CAST

Taylor Sings, Miss Powell Tops in Taps in Film's Spectacular Concealed And Staged Show Sequences.

Broadway pricks up its drooping ears like an old fire horse at the sound of the alarm as "Broadway Melody of 1938" sounds gayly from Hollywood.

There is irony in the new order of showmanship, as Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer produces a musical comedy that excels in lavish splendor anything that Broadway ever attempted, including Ziegfeld's Follies.

Indeed, the studio raided Broadway for most of the talent which appeared in this spectacular new film at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Only Robert Taylor, who co-stars with Eleanor Powell, is strictly a product of the screen. Miss Powell of course scintillated on the stage long before she tapped her way to cinematic fame. The combination appeared in "Broadway Melody of 1936" before the handsome young college boy attained the topmost rung of the Hollywood ladder. Miss Powell is positively brilliant in her dances.

Sophie Tucker, Broadway perennial for many years, now carries on in the studio; and with her in this amazing picture are George Murphy, Binnie Barnes, Buddy Ebsen, Judy Garland, Charles Igor Gorin, Raymond Walburn, Robert Benchley, Willie Howard, Charles Grapewin, Robert Wildhack and a chorus of girls that would have brought out the police reserves at any stage entrance in the days when Broadway called the movies flickers.

"Broadway Melody of 1938" was directed by Roy Del Ruth and produced by Jack Cummings. Dave Gould, the Academy Award winning dance director, staged the footwork. Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed collaborated on the music.

Eleanor Powell and George Murphy symbolize the current west coast publication in their number, "I'm Feeling Like A Million." Charles Ignor Gorin, operatic star, sings "Sun Showers" and Robert Taylor joins Miss Powell in "Yours and Mine."

"Broadway Melody of 1938" is ahead of its time, as its title indicates, and it leaves dear old Broadway gasping for breath at the first quarter. The picture is unquestionably the foremost musical production yet to come from Hollywood.

AUTUMN.

I love to watch the falling leaves,
And feel the chilly air;
I love the red that nature weaves,
A flaming robe most fair.

Yellow and gold upon the ground,
Ripe fruit upon the tree;
Riches that in the fields abound,
Life's quick'ning mystery.

I love the whistling winds to hear,
In song so sadly sweet;
A melody strange twixt smile and tear,
Leaves dancing at my feet.

The earth will soon be bare and still,
And snow will come to blight;
The birds in joy no more will thrill,
But flying, bid goodnight.

COLLEGE GREEN UNDERGOES REPAIRS

(St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw.)

The football field has been completely repaired lately and through the generous aid of Mr. Julius Schwab the numerous clumps of Rock-a-chaws which have sprung up over the summer have been removed.

The playing field is mowed regularly and is taking on the semblance of being the best gridiron on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The new fence erected last year gives the field an imposing appearance adds the finishing touches to a well-groomed field and together with the new scoreboard.

The arc lights have been tested and were found to be in perfect order. Better illumination is expected this year and the field at night will be as bright as day.

The playing field is as smooth as a billiard table and gently slopes on either side. The grass is closely clipped and as mentioned above is mowed regularly.

Parking spaces have been provided for the great number of cars ever present and it seems to the writer that everyone is well pleased with the appearance of our gridiron and surrounding fence and scoreboard. Everyone owes a debt of thanks to Mr. Schwab for his generous help so badly needed in removing the Rock-a-chaws.

Roosevelt views shelling of Augusta as an accident; leave decisions to officials in the field.
